Forrest Adair Issues Statement Denying Charges by Federal Grand Jury.

HOTEL BONDS BASIS OF JURY CHARGES

Warrants for Arrest To Be Issued; May Call Special Term of Court for Trial.

Gainesville, Ga., May 29.—(AP)—Four senior members of the bankrupt Adair Realty & Trust company of Atlanta were named in three indictments returned by a federal grand jury here today on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with alleged bond transactions involving a total of $2,875,000.

Frank Adair, president; Forrest Adair, Sr., chairman of the board; Forrest Adair, Jr., first vice president; and Evans A. Erwin, executive vice president, all of whom are prominent in Atlanta business and social circles, were those indicted.

The alleged financing of three hotel projects—in Little Rock, Birmingham and Knoxville—formed the basis of the true bills, which charged that bonds for the ventures were sold and offered for sale through the mails by the Adair officials with intent to defraud.

More than a hundred purported purchasers of the bonds in Georgia and elsewhere were described in the indictments as losers.

Six counts were contained in one of the bills and five each in the other two.

The three projects for which the bonds were alleged to have been issued in 1926, the year before the company went into bankruptcy with liabilities scheduled at $40,000,000, were listed as follows, together with the amounts of the bond issues:

Thomas Jefferson hotel, Birmingham, to be built by Union Realty corporation, $1,200,000; William N. Young hotel company, Little Rock, $725,000; Tennessee Hotel, Inc., Knoxville, $950,000.

Warrants for the arrest of the four men, which would be returnable in the Gainesville district court, will be issued and sent to Atlanta in the regular course, court attaches indicated.

The three members of the Adair family and Erwin also were trustees of the defunct realty company. The indictments charged that at the time the Adair Realty and Trust company offered the bonds for sale, the concern was insolvent and that the firm did not intend that the money received from sale of the bonds should be used for the hotels but that it would be "converted to the benefit of the Adair Realty and Trust company and the four defendants."

It was set forth in the bills that the hotel companies placed the bonds with the Adair concern without any consideration, and that in turn the company issued and sold them with a view to defrauding the investors.

The conference voted to recognize divorcees granted by the state, to receive divorced persons into the church and to trust the decision of their ministers on eligibility of divorced persons to be married.

FATE OF ITALIA IS YET UNKNOWN

More Storms Foreseen; Rescue Plans Continue as Rumors of Ship Landing Are Unfounded.

Oslø, Norway, May 29.—(AP)—The fate of the dirigible Italia, which set out in lonely majesty on her trip to the north pole just one week ago, is shrouded in deeper mystery tonight than at any time since she lost contact with the world early Friday morning when her wireless signals unanimously ceased.

Intense cold, a heavy north wind and swirling clouds of snow all conspired to make efforts to find trace of the dirigible more difficult than ever. No sign came from the frozen stillness of the sea north of Spitzbergen to show the fate of her crew of 25, including General Umberto Nobile.

Plane Makes Ready. While the base ship Citta Di Milano was valiantly butting ice floes along the 80th degree of latitude north of Spitzbergen in an effort to find a passage through the ice sea, Lieutenant Luetzow Holm, Norwegian flier, was busily engaged in loading his Norwegian naval hydro-airplane into the sealer Hoboy for a dash to Spitzbergen. As soon as he arrives, which will probably be toward the latter end of the week, he will reconnoiter the northern coast of the archipelago from the air in the hope of finding the Italia.

It is from the air that those seeking the rescue of the dirigible pin their hopes since it is felt that observation from an airplane offers the best hope of finding the airship.

Rumors Unconfirmed. There were rumors today of a vague report picked up by a seal hunting steamer supposed to be near Amsterdam island, north of Spitzbergen, that the Italia was down near that place, but these rumors were entirely lacking in confirmation and Oslo was skeptical of them.

The Italian legation, which has been in touch by radio with the Citta Di Milano, had no word whatever respecting these reports.

Dispatches from Spitzbergen, including one from the Associated Press correspondent sent at 1 p. m., made no mention of the Amsterdam island rumor. On the other hand, the dispatches from Kings Bay related that the Italia was down near that place.

Increase in exemption allowed corporations from $2,000 to $5,000. Loss $12,000,000.

WARNING ISSUED CITY CONTRACTORS

Mayor, in Letter to Palmer-Spivey Co., Demands That Local Firms Be Given Preference.

Warning was issued contractors Tuesday by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale that Atlanta building supply dealers should be given preference wherever possible, "all other things being equal," in purchase of materials incident to erection of projects from administration of bond funds.

The mayor directed the letter to L. E. Palmer, president of the Palmer-Spivey Construction company, recently awarded contracts for several schools, but it included all others as well.

Action of the city's chief executive was predicated on "several complaints which have been lodged at my office by building material dealers and other citizens, who feel that they have not been treated fairly in purchases of materials."

Pretty Girl Entraps Amateur Agent NEARLY LOSES HER LIFE Alleged Dope Seller

A pretty young Atlanta girl employee of an insurance company almost lost her life in her effort to help federal narcotic officers land an alleged dope dispenser and now she has decided that humdrum life in an office isn't so bad after all, it was revealed Tuesday following the hearing of narcotic charges against Dr. J. F. Webb, of a Flat Shoals avenue address, in United States commissioner's court.

Commissioner E. S. Griffith held Dr. Webb, who is nearly 80 years old, for the federal grand jury under $5,000 bond on charges of possession and sale of narcotics.

Narcotic officers said that frequent complaints have been received against Dr. Webb for the past two years in connection with alleged sale of narcotics, and that a young woman who was interested in narcotic work, and who thought she would like to be a narcotic agent, asked for the assignment, and was given the case to work up.

This girl, who went under the assumed name of Anna Paschall, visited Dr. Webb and complained of having a lump on her chest, the agents said. Dr. Webb is alleged to have given her a dose of two grains of morphine, in the belief that she was already an addict, the agents said. The average dose for a normal person is a quarter of a grain, and the volunteer narcotic agent had a narrow escape from death, the agents said.

Miss "Paschall" was rushed to a hospital, where she is recovering from the effects of the morphine.

CHRYSLER BUYS ALL DODGE STOCK IN HUGE MERGER

Third Largest Automobile Firm in World Is Formed by Transaction; Shares To Be Traded.

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Merger of Dodge Bros. Inc., with the Chrysler corporation, through an exchange of Dodge stock for Chrysler, was approved today by directors of both concerns, meeting separately.

This combination becomes the third largest in the automobile industry, with a total capitalization of nearly half a billion dollars at the current market value of Chrysler stock. It is exceeded only by General Motors, the securities of which have a current market value of approximately $3,500,000,000 and the Ford company, which has only a nominal amount of capital stock outstanding but which is valued at between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000.

Other Mergers Seen. Wall street understands that plans are in contemplation for the acquisition by Chrysler of other automobile units, particularly in the higher priced fields, to round out an organization comparable to General Motors.

Under the terms of the merger, one share of Chrysler common will be given for each share of Dodge Bros. prior preference stock, one share of Chrysler common for each 5 shares of Dodge Bros. class "A" stock and one share of Chrysler common for each 10 shares of Dodge Bros. class "B" stock.

The Chrysler corporation will assume the funded debt of Dodge Bros., which includes $57,780,000 sinking fund convertible gold debentures 6s due May 1, 1940, and $2,750,000 5 per cent serial notes, due May 1, 1929.

Chrysler preferred stock will be reduced to a share next month through the issuance of additional common stock at $57.50 a share. Chrysler stockholders being granted the privilege to subscribe at that price in the ratio of one new share for each six shares now held.

While the legal details of the combination have not yet been worked out.

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—A subcommittee report holding the bureau of agriculture economics mainly responsible for the 1927 cotton market slump but specifically denying charges of "sinister motives," was filed today with the senate, by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, chairman.

The findings, except as to motives, were accepted by Senator Heflin, of Alabama, one of the five committee members. In a supplementary statement he declared his belief from the testimony "that corrupt influences connived with the government officials in question."

Senator Smith secured the signatures of the other members of the subcommittee on the floor just before the investigation would be continued with the object of forcing

CITY CLUB TO AID CAMPFIRE GIRLS IN CARPENTER ROLE

Members of the City club—doctors, lawyers, men of all professions—will turn from their regular tasks for two days of next month to become amateur carpenters for the benefit of the Camp Fire Girls.

The result of their work will be erection of an administration building for the summer camp at Toccoa without charge to the organization. About 18 members of the City club are expected to arrive in Toccoa the afternoon of Friday, June 8.

The next morning will launch an old-fashioned "house raising." W. O. Sayward will superintend the gang of volunteers. The amateur builders will be joined Sunday by their wives, and members of the Camp Fire organization, for dedication exercises.

The camp probably will be completed within a week, and will house about 100 girls at a time for periods of a few weeks throughout the summer.

Johnson Loses Battle But Measure Made Unfinished Business at December Session.

GALLERIES EMPTIED IN HEATED DEBATE

Sine Die Brings End to Hard Work; Poll Campaigns Now Hold Attention of Solons.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER, United News Staff Correspondent. Washington, May 29.—(AP)—The seventh congress adjourned for the summer at 5:30 p. m. today and turned its face to the presidential and congressional campaigns.

In spite of a grand filibustering finale in the senate, both houses finished the last few hours hard at work passing dozens of minor bills and submitting committee reports, presenting a relatively quiet scene of industrious old men, red-eyed from lack of sleep working among the litter of bills and papers which were strewn over their desks.

Dam Bill Unfinished. Five minutes before congress adjourned Vice President Dawes laid the Boulder dam bill before the senate again making it the unfinished business which will come up when congress meets again in December.

All legislation retains its status through the summer recess and congress will resume in the fall where it left off today.

The house, which completed its essential work last week, while away the final hours over minor bills with nothing sensational or fussy to keep the galleries awake.

Hard At Work. The closing was, in short, a picture of the national congress with its nose down hard at business earning its salary by sweat and toil.

Half an hour before adjournment Senator Curtis, majority leader, conferred with the senate President Coolidge's appreciation of the work done at this session.

"The president asked me to extend his hearty congratulations for what the congress has done," Curtis told the senate.

President Coolidge came to the capitol an hour before adjournment in accordance with custom and signed more than 50 bills.

Heflin Is Ignored. As the deadline drew near, Heflin, of Alabama, was seen to confer with the republican and democratic leaders seeking to get a floor apparently for a speech. He had a group of small silk flags, a stack of documents on his desk. His efforts were in vain for 15 minutes before adjournment.

Senator Curtis, majority leader, sent the senate into executive session to consider nominations. The crowded galleries were cleared and for the senators the last chance to star before a packed house at this session passed.

Bright Spot In House. In the house the one bright spot was afforded by the gigantic Schaffer, Wisconsin representative, whose lungs are stronger than Heflin's in the senate. He attacked a District of Columbia bill in his picturesque style and thundered so loudly that the house began to yell "louder." Aside from

SUSPECT GRILLED IN GIRL'S MURDER

Toledo, Ohio, Mar. 20.—(AP)—A young man suspected of being the slayer who snatched 7-year-old Dorothy Sielgowski from her bed early this morning, attacked and mutilated her and tossed her body upon a porch, today was being grilled by detectives tonight.

An automobile, believed to be the one in which the killer carried Dorothy away has been recovered. On the back of the car were found prints of a child's hand and on the rear seat and upholstery were fresh blood stains.

The machine was found half a mile from the Sielgowski home where it was seized by police.

It had been stolen the night before, supposedly for execution of the crime planned by the slayer.

Through a comparison of fingerprints on the automobile and those of the man in custody, detectives hope to determine whether the suspect is the guilty one.

The little girl was sleeping with her mother, Nellie 15, Leona, 5, and Caroline, 2, when the male stole into the bedroom after entering the house with a knife.

Raymond, 11, brother of Dorothy Sielgowski, and a brother, Raymond, 11 years, were in another room. The only men in the house at the time the slaying was a brother, Stanley, 10.

This morning Stanley was found in Both Stanley and his father were being questioned closely by the police tonight. Mr. Sielagowski was known to have enemies whom police said might have killed the child. This story was given some credence by the fact that Dorothy's body was deposited on the front porch of an un-

MEMORIAL HONORS G. M. A. WAR DEAD

The closing day of the Georgia Military academy pre-commencement program was featured Tuesday by the unveiling of the memorial to the G. M. A. boys who gave their lives in the world war. The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and the unveiling was performed by little Miss Dora Lee Richardson, 5-year-old niece of the late London Brewster, one of G. M. A.'s war dead.

The memorial is of Georgia marble, supported by three rows of cannon balls. On one side of the base is carved a base relief of a G. M. A. cadet in full uniform, and on the other side are the names of the cadets killed in the world war. The dead listed are: Robert Forrester, London Brewster, Jesse Manning, James Towell, W. R. Makinson, Fred Smith, Howard Curtis, Beverly D. Evans, James Welch and Wilbur Oglethorpe.

Frank Holden, an alumnus of 1900, delivered the address at the unveiling. He spoke on the contribution of the south in the world war, with special reference to the "Rainbow Division." G. M. A. furnished 400 officers during the war and lost only 30 men.

In addition to the unveiling of the memorial the program included the annual alumni meeting, at 2:30 o'clock, the annual competitive company and individual drills, and the customary dress parade.

Captain John C. Bowen, of Company C, received a medal for commanding the best company in the cadet drill. Captain Philip Cole was given a medal for commanding the best company for the entire year. The best drilled cadet was Corporal Robert Joerg, and the best cadet captain was J. A. McCubbin. Fifteen target medals, one gold and the other bronze, were awarded. Cadet Reid Robson received the gold medal.

The actual commencement exercises take place this morning at 10:30 o'clock. The ceremonies will include the valedictory by Cadet John Williams Bowen; the commencement address by General Richmond P. Davis; and the presenting of medals, diplomas and honors.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 29.—(P)—Arthur J. Dean, 31, shot down yesterday after holding up his employees and robbing the Fairchild Atlantic bank of $2,930, died in a hospital here today. A bullet from the gun of William M. Barr, cashier of the bank, pierced Dean's lungs as he walked from the bank with his loot.

Efforts were being made by police to locate Dean's wife, who is believed to live in St. Louis, Mo., and his mother, whose home is in Miami, understood to be on her way to Jacksonville.

Dean had been identified as an escaped prisoner from the state prison farm at Milledgeville, Ga., and was believed by police to have been wanted in three other states.

Widespread Interest Shown In Peace Meeting Thursday

Interest in the Georgia conference on the cause and cure of war at Athens Thursday has been widely manifest throughout the state. This conference is the first of a series of 48 in all states of the union, preliminary to the fourth general conference in Washington in January.

The Georgia conference is called by ten state organizations whose national bodies previously have held conferences in Washington, D. C., at each meeting every section of the United States and its territorial possessions was represented.

The direct purpose of the Athens gathering is to consider the formation of a permanent organization in Georgia to promote peace, and to study the Kellogg multilateral treaties proposing an agreement between the powers of the world for the settlement of international questions without war.

Atlanta headquarters has been appointed the following participating organizations and their representatives:

Association of Georgia Colleges—Dr. J. M. Pound, Dr. W. D. Hooper; Georgia Safety Council—C. H. Findley, Bonnell H. Stone, G. F. Talbot; United Spanish War Veterans—W. M. Burson, W. T. Boyles; Georgia Federation of Labor—O. P. Petty, Louis P. Marquardt; Georgia Library Association—Duncan Burnett, Miss Nell Reece; University of Georgia—Chancellor Charles A. ## GEORGIA SOLDIER IS GIVEN MEDAL FOR HEROIC ACT

Award of a war department medal to Private Edwin C. Sherer, of Bannockburn, Ga., for heroism displayed in time of peace was announced Tuesday at army Fourth Corps Area headquarters.

In his citation it was set out that while driving on the Pacific highway near Milwaukee, Oregon, on the night of December 27, last, Private Sherer saw the automobile ahead of him skid on the icy pavement and roll down an embankment into a lake. Without hesitation, he was said to have dashed down the embankment, plunged into the icy waters and rescued the three passengers, who had been pinned within the car.

MACON-SAVANNAH PAVING IS ASKED

Approximately 250 citizens of Macon, Savannah and intermediate points who came to Atlanta from Macon by motor appeared before the state highway board at its East Point offices Tuesday in behalf of a petition to pave state highway No. 50, the Macon-to-Savannah link of the "Coast-to-Capital" route.

Among those included in the motorcade were representatives of the Macon chamber of commerce and all civic clubs of that city, citizens of Savannah and delegations from a number of other towns.

Presentation of the visitors' petition and claims was in charge of Colonel A. S. Bradley, Swainsboro, president of the Coast-to-Capital Highway association.

The highway board did not take action on the petition Tuesday. Chairman John Holder said that the board would meet in October to make out the 1929 budget, but that he did not know whether the Coast-to-Capital route would be taken up prior to or following the October meeting.

The highway board will meet again today when a number of contracts will be let.

The Coast-to-Capital highway would open up a large trade territory for Macon and also would make access to the coast easier and would be a decided advantage to all territory between Atlanta and Savannah. It was urged by those making the motorcade. The party took for its slogan, "The complete paving of the Coast-to-Capital highway through the heart of Georgia."

VARE-WILSON VOTE QUIZ ADJOURNS

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—After hearing two witnesses the senate subcommittee headed by the Vare-Wilson contest today adjourned subject to the call of the chairman with a tentative understanding that the inquiry would not be resumed until July 9 in Philadelphia.

Senator Waterman, republican, Colorado, made the announcement of completion of the examination of Samuel J. Topley, of East McKeesport, Pa. Appearing as the 1926 treasurer of the Allegheny county republican committee, Topley denied his familiarity with many details of the committee organization which were the subject of questioning by William R. Wilson's counsel. He was notified to be ready for call when the investigation is resumed.

Mrs. Marie A. O'Connell, a Philadelphia registration commissioner, told of investigations she had made concerning the activities of "watchers" at registration places in Philadelphia in 1926. She said that two "watchers" had been appointed for each district on recommendation of the republican organization and in conformity with law, while there were very few "democrat watchers" because of the absence of a real minority group. Declaring that the "watchers" had often violated the law, Mrs. O'Connell accused them of "sneaking interfering with and attempting to control the registration" prior to the election of William S. Vare to the senate.

As had been done previously, Mrs. O'Connell explained various provisions of the registration law upon direction of David Wallerstein, of Wilson's counsel.

Through corrective cotton futures legislation at the winter session. In summarizing its findings, resulting from more than three months of hearings, the committee said the tendency of all witnesses heard had been "practically unanimous" that the downward price trend prediction of the government bureau issued September 15, was "mainly responsible for breaking the market and made it easy for those who were organized to take advantage and depress the market to the disastrous low level that it reached."

Motives Denied. "Your subcommittee does not charge any sinister motive prompting the is-

Grand Army of the Republic To Honor Fallen Comrades

ELABORATE PROGRAM AT MARIETTA ARRANGED

Exercises today at the national cemetery at Marietta, under auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic, will mark observation of Memorial day. Formation of a procession at 10:30 o'clock this morning on Washington avenue just north of the public square in Marietta will signify inauguration of the ceremonies.

The procession will be formed under direction of Brigadier General Abraham C. Lott, United States army, commanding general at Fort McPherson, as chief marshal of the day. Organizations taking part in the annual tribute to the comrades who have passed on will be, in addition to the Grand Army of the Republic, the United States army, the United Confederate Veterans, United Spanish War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

In the procession the following order will be observed: The band of the Twenty-second infantry, United States army, detachment of troops from Fort McPherson, D. A. V., American Legion, V. F. W., U. S. W. The band of the bulletin referred to, but they believe that in dealing with vital affairs of the marketing of any of our staple crops by government officials, such officials should have the widest possible personal experience with such crops, as to its production, preparation for market and marketing, the report added.

"I do not concur in the statement which says the officials are not charged with having been moved, by sinister motives in making the warranted and inexcusable price prediction on cotton in September," his separate statement said.

Corrupt Influences. "I am of the opinion from the testimony that corrupt influences connived with the government officials and induced them to issue an official statement in September, 1927, to the effect that cotton prices would decline. They are guilty of a heinous crime against the cotton producers of the United States."

No specific reference is made to the charges of wholesale market manipulation by the firm of Anderson-Clayton & Co., of Houston, Texas, made by Arthur W. Marsh, former New York Cotton Exchange official, and which occupied a large part of the committee's time.

The question of southern delivery on New York future contracts, which figured largely throughout the hearings, is ignored in the report.

FATE OF DIRIGIBLE REMAINS MYSTERY

The steamer had stopped at Amsterdam island and had taken aboard a Norwegian hunter who would be used as a guide for shore searching parties.

Captain Riser-Larsen, who has been actively engaged in Norwegian preparations for a relief expedition, told that the rumors came from garbled radio messages sent out by various shore stations and he was planning his main hope on Lieutenant Holm's coming air reconnaissance.

Meanwhile plans for an auxiliary expedition by the Norwegian government were inclined to wait developments before going ahead.

Set Out Wednesday. The Italia set out from Kings Bay at 4:30 o'clock, Spitzbergen time, last Wednesday. (This was 10:30 p. m. Tuesday, eastern standard time.) Flying the 750 miles to the pole without great difficulty, the Italia reached the top of the world at midnight Wednesday night. Cruising over the region for two hours, the Italia dropped a large wooden cross which had been presented by Pope Pius and an Italian flag.

Then she turned her blunt nose toward Kings Bay. The voyage home was against winds and through fog. The ship, however, as her wireless message into Kings Bay indicated, made steady, if slow progress, sometimes flying only 20 miles an hour, ice-coated and buffeted by heavy winds, the dirigible fought until she was last reported at a point about 100 miles north of Moffen island, which is one of the northernmost points of the Archipelago of Spitzbergen and about 175 miles from Kings Bay. This was about 3:30 o'clock Friday morning.

The last definite word was received at 2:30 Kings Bay at 10 a. m. Friday morning. From that time on the wireless messages which had kept the ship in touch with the world from her lone position over the polar sea, ceased.

There have been many rumors and reports of messages from the ship since then, but all of these lacked confirmation and as time went on failed to materialize.

In the event of a forced landing, the Italia was equipped with emergency rations which would last at least a month and also carried rifles and fishing tackle to enable the crew to support life almost indefinitely by hunting and fishing. She also carried sleds and other equipment for living and traveling on the ice.

The correspondent of the Associated Press at Kings Bay says that the theory most favored here is that the Italia suffered a sudden disaster last Friday morning. He says this is based on the fact that when the last message was received from the dirigible, the radio operator promised to call again in two hours. But he never made that call, so it is figured that whatever accident took place, must have been within those two hours.

Since the ship was something more than 100 miles north of Moffen island when she last reported it is figured that the disaster occurred somewhere in that neighborhood. If the Italia managed to make further progress southward she may have crashed on land and a rescue still be practicable.

But if the crash came over the ice on the northern sea the chances of rescue of the crew would be exceedingly slim.

Virtually this same theory has gained general support in Oslo. It is believed that it has prompted the Italian government to defer acceptance of Norwegian plans for a widespread search until Lieutenant Holm has had opportunity to reconnoiter the north coasts of Spitzbergen and the waters in that vicinity.

The Italian representative praised the promptitude with which the Norwegian authorities gave assistance. He said he had been instructed by his government to convey Italy's heartfelt thanks.

Reflecting the Italian national optimism, the minister said he did not think the situation could be regarded as critical.

CREW DOUBTS ITALIA LANDED ON ISLE

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, May 29.—(AP)—None of the dozen members of General Nobile's expedition remaining here received any message today on the rumor that the Italia had landed at Amsterdam island. Furthermore, none of them believed the report could be true.

The course of the wind last Friday morning, when the dirigible disappeared, made it impossible for her to reach that island.

The Italia reported herself as having been north of Moffen island at 3 a. m. Friday. She was fighting against westerly winds and Moffen island is several miles east of Amsterdam island. Experts here said the drift of the ship alone would have carried her still further east, even if she was able to hold her original course.

Weather conditions here continue bad. The Citta di Milano has indicated that she may be back at Kings Bay tomorrow as wind and cold, coupled with snow, prevent her crew from conducting any search ashore.

Francis E. Kamper, prominent Atlanta grocer, past president of the National Retail Grocers' association and the only southern member of the advisory committee of the federal department of commerce, Tuesday addressed the Rotary club at its regular John K. Otter, Jr., James B. Dinwiddie and Evans McConnell were introduced to the club by new members.

Counting the Cost—

No man builds a house until he first sits down and counts the cost. Life consists largely in choices and estimates of values. The most worthwhile things usually call for the greatest outlay. Creating an estate, making investments, establishing a reserve fund, educating your children, all call for large expenditures. A Thrift Account may seem to cost a great deal but in the end proves to be of greatest value. Let us enroll you now.

WOMAN SHOT DEAD BELIEVED SUICIDE

Jepp, Ga., May 29.—(AP)—City authorities today were investigating the death of Miss Emma Branch, 43, which appeared to have been a determined effort by the woman to end her life. Two shots were fired from a shotgun, 15 minutes apart, the first tearing away part of her right arm and the second penetrating her heart. Miss Branch who was said to have been in ill health for several years was found in her room yesterday by Mrs. D. Bryant, at whose home she lived, when Mrs. Bryant returned from a visit to neighbors. Investigators, following a trail of blood, said that after firing the first shot, Miss Branch apparently went to another part of the house, secured another shell and a towel to halt the flow of blood. A pillow was placed on the floor of her room and the gun propped against a trunk. A window curtain stick, believed to have been used to push the trigger, was lying nearby. Mrs. Bryant said she heard the first shot and returned home to investigate when the second was fired 15 minutes later.

APPLE GROWERS HOLD ANNUAL MEET JUNE 12

Cornelia, Ga., May 29.—(Special.) With prospects indicating the largest and best apple crop ever grown in Georgia, the Consolidated Apple Growers' exchange will hold its seventh annual meeting at Cornelia, headquarters of the exchange, on Tuesday, June 12, it was announced today by J. Frank Beck, of Atlanta, president. J. C. Porter, who with his brother, C. R. Porter, of Rome, owns and operates large orchards in several counties, is secretary-manager of the exchange at Cornelia. Through the efforts of the growers' exchange, Mr. Beck stated, legislation was secured in the last legislature that gave to the state a standardization law governing the grading and packing of apples in line with similar laws of other apple-producing states.

"The effect is to place Georgia apples on the markets of this and other states squarely on their merits, with the state's stamp on every box and basket, guaranteeing the contents of the package," he said. "This has changed the attitude of the buyers from what was once suspicion to confidence, in recognition of our product in competition with all other apples."

Prohi Laws Best Enforced of All, Declares Judge

Americus, Ga., May 29.—(Special.) Prohibition statutes are the best enforced of all laws in the nation's penal code, according to Judge Z. A. Littlejohn, of Sumter superior court. This assertion was made by Judge Littlejohn here Monday in charging the grand jury, of which E. L. Wilson is foreman and Eugene Bailey, clerk. The jurist, in his charge, called attention to the necessity for a strict enforcement of the state game laws, saying that game birds are valuable assets to every agricultural region.

$1,000,000 DRIVE FOR AGNES SCOTT

Decatur, Ga., May 29.—(Special.) An outstanding feature of the thirtieth commencement at Agnes Scott held today was the challenge of the alumnae association to the board of trustees to join in raising $1,000,000 for the erecting of new buildings and development of the college. The board promptly accepted the challenge. The alumnae for their part have pledged the erection of the chapel as a memorial of the late President F. H. Gaines, at a cost of approximately $125,000. The following officers of the association were named: a committee to carry out the plan: President, Mrs. B. R. Adams, Columbus, Ga.; vice president, Mrs. Frank K. Sims, Jr., Dalton, Ga.; and Mrs. W. Anderson, Atlanta; secretary, Miss Martha Crowe, Atlanta; treasurer, Mrs. R. M. McFarland, Jr., Atlanta; chairman of publicity, Miss Mary Wallace Kirk, Tusculum, Ala. The trustees have appointed the following committee to have general charge of the campaign: President J. R. McCain, Dr. J. S. Lyons, J. K. Orr, Mrs. S. M. Lunsford, all of Atlanta or Decatur, with W. ## G. O. P. FARM FIGHT GOES TO CONVENTION

Chicago, May 29.—(AP)—From two sources today came announcements that supporters of farm relief legislation would carry their fight to the republican national convention at Kansas City next month. In Chicago, M. J. Tobin, who was secretary of the Iowa state republican convention, issued a statement that 14 agricultural states have organized a committee to present their plea for farm aid to the national convention. At St. Paul, Minn., an announcement was made by J. F. Reed, president of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, that farmers of that state will mobilize within the next fortnight in four sections, preparatory to going to Kansas City.

The 14 state organizations announced in Chicago is composed, Tobin said, of the Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri, Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oklahoma and Montana. The Tobin statement said: "We want the farmers to have a chance to get away from sleep distress they have suffered as stated in the 1924 platform. The party is facing the greatest crisis in its history. If eastern party leaders will listen to the voice of the west and heed the demand for economic justice, victory will follow. But if they continue to be indifferent to the needs and rights of the corn belt and farming states, . . . then defeat is invited and disaster will follow. States represented on the committee, Tobin said, are: Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri, Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oklahoma and Montana. An American flag, a Confederate flag, a Georgia flag, and a steel flagpole were presented to Girls' High school Tuesday at noon in the music room. The flags were received for the school by members of the senior class. The United States flag was the gift of the Order of United American Mechanics, Gate City council, No. 1. It was presented by Carl F. Hutcheson and received by Miss Helen Moore. The Georgia flag was given by the executive board of the P. T. A. It was presented by Mrs. T. A. Clayton, and received by Miss Helen Herzberg, a member of the senior class. The Confederate flag was donated by the local chapter of the T. P. C. and presented by Mrs. Stafford Seidell and received by Miss Zeldia Webb. W. W. Gaines spoke on the meaning of the flags at an institution such as Girls' High. Music was furnished by the Twenty-second Infantry band on the Tech High band. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of city schools, presided and introduced the distinguished guests: L. N. Ragdale, General Frank Chiles, Charles J. Foster, Mrs. John F. Riddle, Mrs. M. Herzberg, Mrs. Wayne G. Kell, Mrs. N. B. Brand, Mrs. Birdie V. Moore and Mrs. Cleve Webb.

Senate Precedent Set in Refusing Two Men Seats

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—Setting the precedent of refusing to administer the oath of office, the senate last session now turning into legislative history kept two elected members beyond its doors and so passed through the session with a membership of only 84. William S. Vare, Pennsylvania republican, still is knocking at the door, but faces not only a fight over expenditures in his 1926 primary campaign, but a contest by his democratic opponent, William B. Wilson, secretary of labor in the Wilson administration. Frank L. Smith, Illinois republican, after being denied the oath, refused to submit himself further to the jurisdiction of the Reed slush fund committee; resigned, offered for re-nomination and was defeated. His successor will be sworn in by the senate next December, but Pennsylvania probably will remain without a second senator until well into the short session.

The two cars ran together head-on on a straight stretch of road near Lela, the small car being the faster and overturning. Miss Merck suffered a broken collarbone and severe bruises. ## SMITH CONFIDENCE CAUSES WARNING

BY SAM W. SMALL.
Special Staff Correspondent.
Washington, May 20.—(Special).—As Congress pulls up stakes there is much confusion as to possible events ahead. One of the most certain things brought into the open is the determination of most of the present members who are seeking reelection to attend strictly to their own knitting when they get home.

There are very few of them, whether republicans or democrats, who think of entering strenuously into the oncoming national campaign outside their own districts. The party managers of senatorial and house campaigns are taking note of the situation and will arrange their programs accordingly.

All Are in Doubt.
No one can yet predict with any confidence what aspects the campaign will assume after the national conventions shall have adopted platforms and nominated the party tickets.

Democrats generally, even some of the most ardent ones, are expecting the nomination of Governor Smith but what may happen in the reaction of the party at large after that, the wisest of them will not venture to predict.

Most of them who are in official service feel that they will have to be "regular" and accept a Smith nomination for better or for ill, the enthusiasm for "Smith for President" is in the city democratic strongholds.

West of the Ohio river it will call for all the resources of the party to rally the small town and rural voters to the support of the ticket. None of these things affect the ardor and confidence of the Smith leaders. They assert the fullest confidence that Governor Smith will sweep the country in one of the greatest victories the party has ever won against odds.

The New York Times, which is pro-Smith, this morning editorially warns Smith managers that they are not yet clear of obstructions and that they are taking much risk in so openly announcing their program after the nomination of the governor.

All Plans Made.
There have been stated just when and where Governor Smith will receive the notification of his nomination, how he will stage his acceptance speech, when he will begin his campaign tour of the nation, making train-stop speeches by day and set city speeches at night to be broadcasted by radio to all the region roundabout.

The Times thinks that it is crude and dangerous to announce such plans before the nomination. It estimates that Governor Smith will be best served by cutting out all such talk and pepper stuff. The source of the anti-Smith news is not likely to be assuaged by it.

Opponents "Die Hard."
The dry "die-hards" whose spokesmen is Senator Simmons, banking on the fact that "there is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip" are yet hoping that there will flame up in the south and west a substantial plus-third combination against Smith and be indissoluble enough to prevent his nomination.

The wisest leaders, however, are saying: "Granting that, what then?" There is nothing in the whole political horizon more certain than the defeat of Smith in the Houston convention will mean the sure defeat of the party in November. His nomination may not win for the party, but certainly no other would. The big, strong element that is backing Smith not only can but will defeat the party if he is denied the nomination after having won the formidable array of delegates indelibly listed for him.

"We Want Smith."
Of course, the demand for his nomination because he has a majority of delegates means a nomination by a majority and the practical abandonment of the two-thirds rule. The Smithites absolutely reject that palpable view of the case and simply shout against it. "We want Smith!"

The next consideration is to select a suitable running mate for Smith. It is now fairly seen that a southern man for the place is not needed. The electoral votes of the southern states will almost solidly be cast for Smith if and when he is the democratic candidate. Hence a southern man on the ticket would be only excess baggage. Since the Coolidge trip-hammer fell on the McNary-Hansen bill there arose the theory that a western farm reliever should be named as vice president to Smith.

Nominate Stevenson.
The sudden suggestion for capitalizing the rage of the western farmers is to nominate Louis W. Stevenson, of Illinois. He is the son of former Vice President Adlai Stevenson, who won with Cleveland through his second term. He is a real honest-to-God farmer and a large land owner in Iowa, Illinois and Minnesota. He is highly endowed and educated, experienced in national public life and in all respects a perfectly eligible person for the nomination. It is believed he would help as much as any man obtainable to drag Illinois and may be other farm states into the democratic column in November. This suggestion will be carried out to the west by the democrats who will now disperse from here to consult the folks back home before the convention calls them together again at Houston.

CITY MAIL SERVICE
SUSPENDS AT NOON
City mail service will be suspended at noon today when the postoffice will close and afternoon deliveries will be omitted in observance of national Memorial day. Banks, the city hall, courts, the state capitol and other public buildings will be open as usual.

MEETINGS PLANNED BY WOODMEN CIRCLE

The Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle will hold district meetings at the Henry Grady hotel next Saturday and Sunday. A special committee appointed by Mrs. Clara B. Cassidy, state manager, has arranged programs for all the meetings. The national secretary, Mrs. Dora Alexander Talley, of Omaha, Neb., will be present and will deliver an address.

Mrs. Clara B. Cassidy, of Atlanta, state manager and national director, who will preside at the district meetings, is active in the Georgia fraternal congress, being secretary-treasurer of that organization.

The purpose of the meetings is to give information of the home for aged members and orphans, to be built at Sherman, Texas; to tell about the new certificates which the society is now issuing, and to report on the membership campaign in which three Georgia members have won vacation trips to Camp Seneca, Brainerd, N. C. The Georgia winners are Mrs. Clara B. Cassidy and Miss Myrtle Hardy, of Maple Grove No. 86, Atlanta, and Mrs. Ora Wehring, of Naylor, state auditor. They will spend August 28 to September 1 at Camp Seneca.

ATLANTAN LEAVES FRIDAY TO JOIN BYRD EXPEDITION

Sydney Greason, steward of the Atlanta Athletic club, will leave Friday night for New York where he will join Commander Richard E. Byrd, in whose expedition he will sail for the south pole on September 10. He will spend the months of June and July and August in New York assisting in the work of preparing the expedition, which the expedition will sail for its trip.

Greason was picked by Byrd as steward for his south pole trip from among hundreds of applicants largely because of the excellent recommendations from those who have known him during his many years as restaurant owner, butcher and steward.

Greason will have two cooks on his staff and the work of feeding the men on the trip also will be aided by the service of an expert dietician from the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore.

The Samson is being built in Norway expressly for Byrd's expedition and is expected to arrive in New York soon. When she sails she will carry enough food to last the explorer about two years.

PLANS FOR COLORED OUTING NEARLY READY

Officials in charge of the ninth annual outing of the Atlanta Educational and Charitable association for negroes will meet this afternoon to complete the details of the plans for the big picnic.

The gathering is to be held Monday, June 4, at Lakewood park, which will be turned over for the day to the negro merrymakers. Housewives are requested to give their colored maids Monday off that week instead of the regular day, where it is possible to do so.

NYE FLAYS TEAPOT OIL LEASE TRIALS

Washington, May 20.—(AP)—Brilliant with pungent terms of denunciation of the naval oil leases and the Continental Trading company deal, a report supplementing to that approved yesterday by the Teapot Dome committee was filed today by Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, chairman of this senate investigating group.

It went into the record along with the report of Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, who prosecuted the oil investigation and whose findings characterized Robert W. Stewart, Harry F. Sinclair, H. M. Blackmer and James E. O'Neil as "conspirators" and denounced the entire deal as a "contemptible private steal."

"Never has the world known a case involving a degree of fraud, quite evidence bribery, thieves, conspiracy and corruption to compare with what has come to be known as the Teapot Dome-Elk Hills-Continental Trading company case," the Nye report said.

The leases involved in the case are estimated to have been worth not less than $500,000,000, and were committed to use the language of the supreme court of the United States, by conspiracy, corruption and fraud.

"The investigation has uncovered the slimmest of slimy trails bent by privilege. The investigation has shown, let us hope, privilege at its worst. The trail is one of dishonesty, greed, violation of law, secrecy, concealment, evasion, falsehood and cunning."

It is a trail of betrayals by trusted and presumably honorable men—betrayals of a government, of certain business interests and the people who trusted and honored them; it is a trail showing a flagrant degree of the exercise of political power and influence, and the power and influence of great wealth upon individuals and political parties; it is a trail of despoilers and schemers far more dangerous to the well being of our nation and our democracy than all those who have been deported from our shores in all time as undesirable citizens.

In the end, the story is one of the crushing of brilliant careers when finally the light was played upon those who schemed those unhealthy schemes born in darkness.

"The acquittal verdicts in the Fall-Dolney and the Fall-Sinclair trial have been considered the most deplorable failures of justice on every side, excepting only the side of privilege. These failures have been of such nature as to prove the need for such changes in court procedure that will make advantage no more easily available to the criminal of great means than to the offender who comes out of the most lowly classes."

Justice has been proven not a thing to be applied to and surmounted by all alike, but, instead, a commodity to be bought and otherwise influenced by wealth, and able lawyers in the congress and out would contribute mightily to the cause of our democracy if they would devote themselves to such legislation as would bring about a local siding tempted artist; he opened the throttle and piloted the juggernaut through a string of boxcars and a siding. That was May 3.

The grand jury indicted him shortly afterward on a malicious mischief charge, it being apparent that he had not attempted to "convert the property to his own use."

The lunacy plea was entered later. The finding was signed by Judge G. H. Howard.

Three rare coins, two of gold and one of silver, were brought to The Constitution office Tuesday by Mrs. Emma Sams, of 746 Highland avenue, N. E., following the publication of a story concerning the use of four other rare coins as cuff buttons and furnished the paper by A. P. Herrington, of Kirkwood.

The coins of Mr. Herrington were $3 gold pieces. One of the coins owned by Mrs. Sams is a $3 gold piece and bears the date 1854. The Constitution printed a story recently that one of these gold pieces bearing the date 1875 had been sold at auction a short time ago for $1,270.

BANDITS' ARREST IS THOUGHT NEAR

Police nets in Atlanta are slowly closing in an attempt to effect capture of the three bandits who last Friday staged a pay roll holdup near Rome, taking almost $25,000 from officials of the Hanks Store and Bangs company, of Rome, and making good their escape in spite of the efforts of a large posse to capture them near Calhoun.

Studying the searchers in the northern part of the state sometime Saturday the men made their way toward Atlanta, arriving here early Sunday morning. It was reported to police.

Since that time detectives believe that they have discovered the identity of the robbers and that they have established the fact that the holdup was planned in Atlanta and executed by one Atlanta accomplice, he was received by local officers leading them to believe that the men now are in the city and Chief of Detectives Lamar Loebe has announced that his men would not comment except to state this his department is in possession of some information as to the identity of the men which is believed to be reliable and even in the event that they do make good their escape from the city, which seems not likely, he believed that it will be only a question of time before they are apprehended.

Three Rare Coins Found in Trunk By Local Woman

Three rare coins, two of gold and one of silver, were brought to The Constitution office Tuesday by Mrs. Emma Sams, of 746 Highland avenue, N. E., following the publication of a story concerning the use of four other rare coins as cuff buttons and furnished the paper by A. P. Herrington, of Kirkwood.

The coins of Mr. Herrington were $3 gold pieces. One of the coins owned by Mrs. Sams is a $3 gold piece and bears the date 1854. The Constitution printed a story recently that one of these gold pieces bearing the date 1875 had been sold at auction a short time ago for $1,270.

Mrs. Sams said it is possible that the coins she owns have a high value. The other two coins are a dollar gold piece, minted in 1854, and a silver dollar minted in 1788, about 20 years after the formation of the American government.

The gold piece was given to Mrs. Sams by her mother, Mrs. D. G. C. Sterne, of Eufaula, Ala. The silver dollar was found in her husband's trunk, which was opened after his death. She does not know where her husband obtained the coin.

On one side of the silver dollar is the face of the Goddess of Liberty, and the word "Liberty" written above it. On the reverse side is an eagle standing on a shield. There are 13 stars on each side of the coin, the thirteen original states.

Halcyon Issued by Girls' High Is Dedicated to Miss Moore

The "Halcyon," Girls' High school annual for 1928, magnificently lettered and bound volume featuring the school colors, red and black, is off the press, bringing with it credit to the students of this institution, and the faculty which throughout the years has proven their incentive and inspiration. The volume which is a complete record of the school, the classes, organizations and various features incidental with school life, is fully illustrated with pictures and cartoons and featured throughout with articles of interest by students of the school.

Miss Moore's Picture.
A photograph of Miss Mary Moore, to whom the book is dedicated, is accompanied by the following tribute: "To Miss Mary Moore, whose character is a source of admiration, whose presence is an incentive, whose sympathetic understanding is an inspiration, whose companionship is the desire of every Girls' High girl, we dedicate this volume of the Halcyon." An outstanding article of the book is "Modern Girls" from 1872 to 1928, by Fritchard Gayle, which she sums up with the words: "Even as we today possess a heritage from the fair ladies of the old south, and from the various 'modern girls' of 1872, of 1890, of 1900 and of 1914, may we of 1928 leave an equally invaluable heritage to the 'modern girl' of the years to come."

LaGrange Alumnae Attend Exercises At Alma Mater

A large number of LaGrange college alumnae returned Tuesday from LaGrange where they attended the commencement exercises and alumnae day exercises.

Mrs. Samuel Candler Dobbs, state president of the alumnae, presided at the alumnae exercises. After the opening prayer by Mrs. Warren A. Candler, Mrs. Dobbs introduced Mrs. J. M. Albert, of Atlanta, whose mother was graduated from LaGrange college in 1861. She had her mother's diploma which was beautifully engraved with a picture of the old college chapel and presented to Mademoiselle Ida Redding.

The graduating class, numbering 33 young women, were introduced; one of the seniors, Miss Georgia Knox, of Atlanta, was voted the prettiest girl, and was queen of the May festival which was held recently on the college campus. President W. E. Thompson welcomed the alumnae and friends of the college and introduced Samuel Candler Dobbs, chairman of the board of trustees and speaker of the day.

Mrs. Dobbs, who is known throughout the south for her aid in establishing Christian schools, delivered a stirring address urging the alumnae to give more of their time and efforts to their alma mater. At the conclusion of the address many contributions were announced. The largest were those of Mrs. Samuel Candler Dobbs, $1,000; W. E. Thompson, $1,000; Mrs. J. E. ## BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

THE BORER OF HOLES.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

All things in time are put to use, and thus for being have excuse.—Old Mother Nature.

"Cubby looked at Longbill, the Woodcock, and he wondered. 'If you please, Longbill,' said he, 'why are your eyes so near the top of your head?'"

"None, what a question!" cried Longbill. "Why do you suppose they are up there?"

"I haven't the slightest idea, or I wouldn't have asked," retorted Cubby Bear, a little bit peevishly.

"Well," replied Longbill, "if you really want to know, it is so that I may always be looking out for danger."

"Don't you hear that worm?" demanded Longbill.

Cubby looked puzzled. He looked just as he felt. "No," said he, "I don't hear any worm."

"Watch me!" commanded Longbill.

"If you please, Longbill," said he, "why are your eyes so near the top of your head?"

Thereupon, with that long bill of his, he began to bore a hole in the soft ground. And he did it very quickly, indeed. His bill went down until his forehead almost touched the ground. Then he pulled it out and Cubby had just time to see the tail of a worm disappearing down Longbill's swallow, and then opened and shut his bill as if with great satisfaction.

"That's the way," said Longbill, "the next story." Longbill Shags His Bill.

SKINNY MEN

Gain pounds of weight and strength in 3 weeks with new YEAST and IRON—or pay nothing

"Gained 10 Pounds"

"I can truthfully say that I never received so much benefit from anything in so short a time. Before I began taking IRONIZED YEAST I was 10 pounds underweight, but now I am back to normal again."—Mr. M. P. Asbury Park, N. J.

Daily letters pour in telling how Ironized Yeast has put on 5 to 15 pounds of good solid flesh in 3 weeks. Has built up strength in nervous, tired people. Has cleared skins of ugly pimples and boils.

What is the Magic in Ironized Yeast?

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured yeast, concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value.

This Yeast is treated with pure, vegetable iron, the same as in spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is ironized in this way is it 100% effective—for iron is needed to bring out the weight-building values of Yeast. By this special formula Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by yeast or iron taken separately.

Don't have a skinny, weak body. Don't go around with an ugly skin. Go to your drugist. Get a handy bottle of Ironized Yeast tablets. Safe for everybody. Easy to take.

Try It on "Money Back" Offer

Go today to your drugist. Get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If you are not delighted get your money back. If inconvenient to buy from the drugist, send $1.00 direct to the Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga., Lock 26-LL.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and generally weak, nervous and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal.

Miss Howell is also a member of the Colonial Dames of America and belongs to most distinguished southern families, her relatives in South Carolina being numbered among the most aristocratic in the state. ## NO USE TO SUFFER LIKE HE ONCE DID Man Tells How He Finds Relief From Troubles Due to Constipation by Taking Black-Draught.

Seneca, S. C.—The following statement by Mr. W. A. Bruce of this city, is typical of the experiences described by thousands of Black-Draught users:

"I am forty-four years old, and I might say, 'relates Mr. Bruce, 'that I have taken Black-Draught, at intervals, all my life.

"I remember that, when just a small child, my mother made tea from Black-Draught and gave it to me.

"As I grew up, when I needed a medicine for biliousness, or for constipation, I would take Black-Draught. I noticed that if I took the least cold, and my stomach was out of order, I would have a very severe headache. The cold seemed to settle there. My eyes would burn, and I would suffer a good bit of pain. I took Black-Draught for this, and I do not have that trouble now.

"I found, too, that there was no use suffering from constipation, as I once did. Black-Draught relieved me, and I am feeling fine now. I have never found a better medicine of the kind than Black-Draught, and it is all I take now.

"I recommend Black-Draught to others, and have had them to tell me how much good it did them."

Sold in two sizes, 25c and $1.

During the seven-day period Mr. Williams hasn't had a thing to do but organize a record of being the longest man in America during the past week.

Keith's Georgia.
His MacQuarrie, former motion picture director, is back on the stage and gives a clever sketch at Keith's Georgia this week. The audience is invited to come on the stage and assist in making a motion picture. The camera and cameraman are in place. The director and the actors are waiting and the picture is about to be made. If you want to see how they do it in Hollywood all you need do is accept the invitation and you will be an actor in the film.

Capitol.
Featuring the great musical organization, the Royal Scotch Highlanders band, under the direction of Roy D. Smith, in addition to the film, "Why Sailors Go Wrong" on the screen, the current Capitol theater program offers much to the amusement seekers. The Scotch Highlanders are seen in a regular unit show and besides the show the band is one of the finest musical organizations seen on a local stage. Sammy Cohen and Ted McNamara, inimitable comedians, are starred in "Why Sailors Go Wrong."

Loew's Grand.
Measuring up to the high standard of the recent vaudeville bills at Loew's Grand theater the new bill this week with two headliners is winning much favor. Al Herman is one of the headliners and he brings a speedy fun show. The other featured offering is "The Donnell" in "A Carnival of Venice." Another notable artist on the bill is Natalie Alt. The Loew feature picture is "Becky."

Metropolitan.
Headlining on the Metropolitan's Vitaphone program for the week are the Six Brown Brothers, saxophone harmonizers, in an act of novelty and music. Aided by their orchestra, they make their act a perfect hit of entertainment. Other Vitaphone acts on the Met's program are the Still-Finn company, a quartet of internationally famous artists. Clyde Cook appears in "Lucky in Love," a one-act comedy. Feature attraction on the program is "The Tragedy of Youth," featuring Warner Baxter, Patsy Ruth Miller and William Collier, Jr.

Rialto.
The thrilling melodrama of Chicago's fight against the crooked elements which would overrun the city is depicted in "Chicago After Midnight," which is playing this week at the Rialto theater in conjunction with a big-time program of Vitaphone vaudeville and the issue of Movietone news reel, reproducing the Lindbergh-Coolidge reception. "Chicago After Midnight" is one of the most enjoyable films of the season.

Alamo No. 2.
Strange details and hidden secrets of the Russian revolution and the overthrow of the czar mark "Mockery," Len Chaney's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, coming today to the Alamo Theater No. 2, and in which Chaney plays one of his strangest roles as Sergei, the weird peasant in the fantastic story.

West End.
Today the West End theater offers "Something Always Happens," featuring Esther Rialston, one of the screen's most beautiful stars, in a comedy of laughs and romance.

Cherokee Garden Club Hears Prof. McHatten.

Professor T. H. McHatten, well-known horticulturist of the University of Georgia, addressed the members of the Cherokee Garden club Tuesday at a meeting of the club held at the home of Mrs. F. W. Blalock on Argonne drive. Professor McHatten spoke on the cultivation of summer flowers indigenous to Georgia soil and gave a number of helpful suggestions in the planting of gardens. The program for the meeting was arranged by Mrs. George Street, program chairman.

The Loss of the Train.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

BILLY CODY'S FIRST TRIP AS AN EMPLOYEE
OF THE RUSSELL, MAJORS AND WADDELL
FREIGHTING COMPANY WAS EVENTFUL ENOUGH TO PLEASE ANYONE WHO CRAVED THRILLS AND EXCITEMENT. WHEN IT REACHED THE ROCKIES,
THE WAGON TRAIN WAS HELD UP BY A LARGE PARTY OF MORMONS.

THE MORMONS BURNED MOST OF THE WAGONS AND DROVE OFF THE OXEN, BUT PER-MITTED THE "BULL-WHACKERS" TO CONTINUE
ON THEIR WAY TO FORT BRIDGER.

REACHING THE FORT, THE "BULL-WHACK- ERS" FOUND FOUR HUNDRED OF THEIR COM-RADES, WITH MANY OF THE COMPANY'S WAGONS, PREPARING TO GO INTO WINTER
QUARTERS. THE COLD THAT WINTER WAS UNUSUALLY INTENSE, FOOD WAS SCARCE, AND THE MEN AT FORT BRIDGER SUFFERED GREAT HARDSHIPS.

THE LONG WINTER PASSED, AND, AS SOON
AS THE TRAIL WAS PASSABLE, TWO WAGON
TRAINS, BOTH UNDER THE COMMAND OF MR.
SHUPROCK, SET OUT FROM FORT BRIDGER FOR LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS. ONLY CODY WENT ALONG WITH ONE OF THE TRAINS.

TOMORROW—AN ADVENTURE ON THE TRAIL.

Moran and Mack, the "Two Black Crows," are known all over the English speaking world for their excruciatingly funny dialogues as recorded on phonograph records. It is stated that over 3,000,000 of these discs have been sold in the past 18 months.

Both Moran and Mack and Fields will present several of their famous comedy acts during the program at the Erlanger next Wednesday.

Peachtree circle, Dr. Richard Orin Flinn and Dr. W. W. Memminger officiated, and interment was in West View.
